Andrew Hawkins is a certified Athletic Trainer and a Physical Therapist. In 2010, he graduated from Emporia State University with a BS in Athletic Training. There he worked primarily with the college's football, track, softball and soccer teams.

Following graduation, he was hired to work as the Rehabilitation Coordinator for the Los Angeles Angels, where he worked with the organizations' major and minor league players for five years. He then graduated from USC in 2013 with a Doctorate in Physical Therapy.

Andrew joined ARCPT+ in 2020 and brings strong leadership to the Topeka and Manhattan areas as an educator, thought leader and physical therapist. Andrew holds an advanced Board Certification in Orthopedic Clinic Specialty, which was achieved by completing an Orthopedic Residency program.
