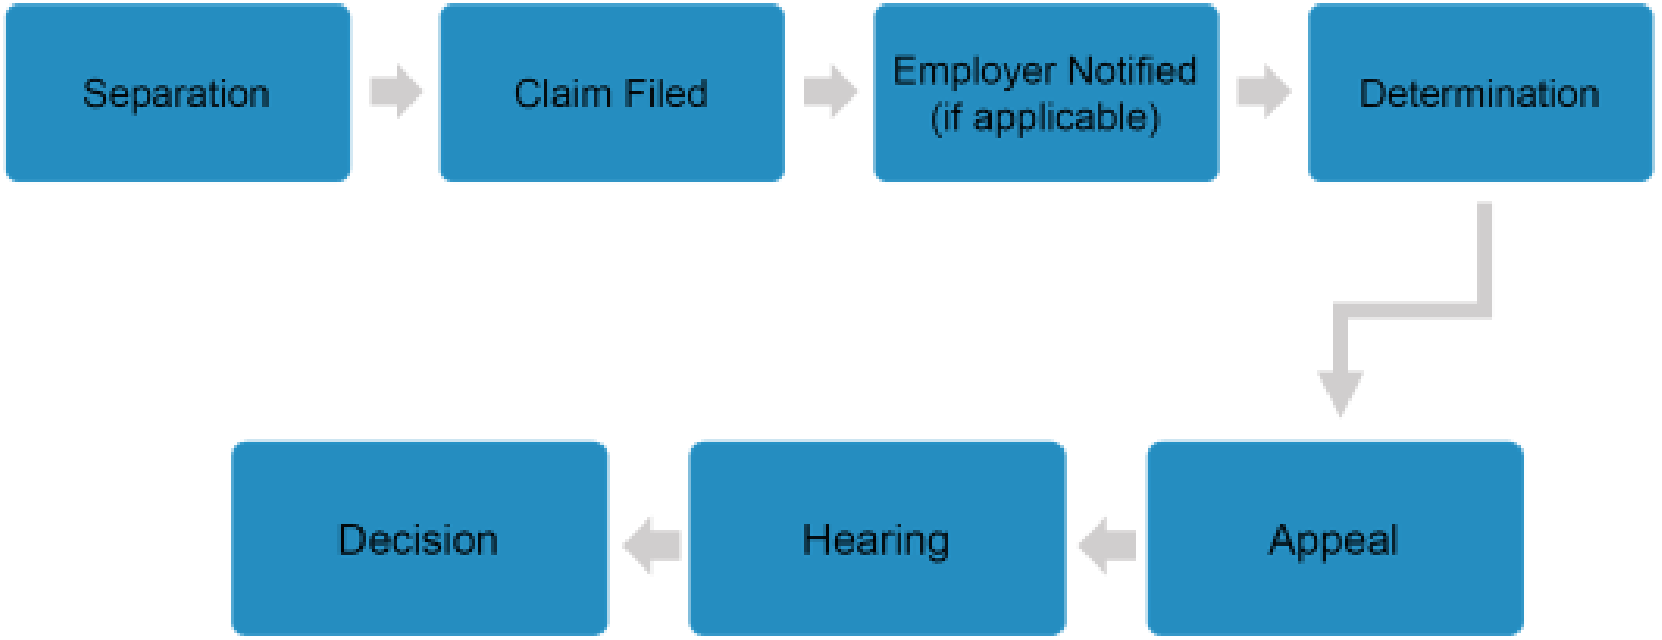
Lifecycle of a Claim

Initial Claim Process



Separation

- Separation From Work: individual stops working for an employer either temporarily or permanently
- Voluntary Separation: individual chooses to leave work
  - Generally denied UI benefits unless individual can show good cause
  - Examples: quitting, leave of absence
- Involuntary Separation: An employer forces an individual to stop work
  - Generally qualify for UI benefits unless evidence shows your employment ended because of misconduct connected to your work
  - Examples: firing, layoff, suspension

Filing An Initial Claim

- Initial claims can be filed online (www.getkansasbenefits.gov) or by phone
- Claimant is asked several questions pertaining to:
  - Personal Information
  - Citizenship & Statistical Information
  - Exclusionary Questions – some responses may require claimant to speak to a customer service rep to finish filing
  - Employment History
  - Able & Available – series of questions that deal with one's ability and availability to obtain new employment

Employer Notification & Determination

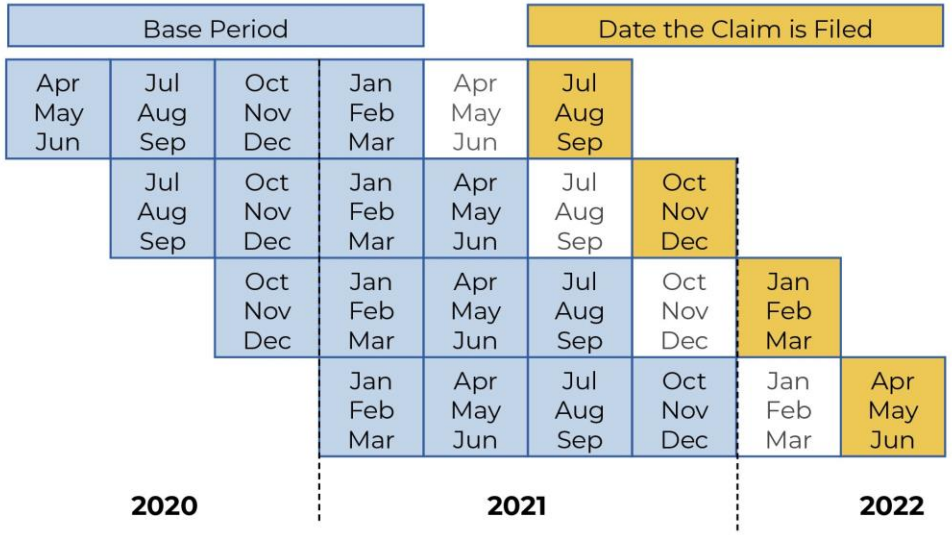
- KDOL processes the claim through several systems to determine a claimant's eligibility for UI benefits.
  - May send notice to last employer to determine UI benefit eligibility.
  - If a claim raises questions, it goes through our adjudication process to resolve them
  - Checks our systems for things like past wages & employers and out-of-state wages or claims.
  - Calculates weekly benefit amount by looking at wages earned during the base period, the first 4 of the 5 preceding quarters from when a claim is filed.

Kansas Department of Labor

Base Period

Calculating Unemployment Benefits

The amount of benefits a claimant is eligible for is calculated by the earnings made during the base year of the claim. Claimants must have wages in at least 2 of the 4 quarters in the base period. The base period is the first 4 of the 5 preceding quarters from when a claim is filed.



The BASI system is used to check for wages and employers.

  - Must be filed within 16 calendar days of the determination being mailed
  - Must be made in writing and include why the claimant believes determination was in error
- Appeal is referred to an appeals referee and scheduled for a Telephone Hearing
  - Claimants should continue to file weekly claims while the appeal is pending
  - If either party disagrees with the decision, they can request that the decision be reviewed by the Employment Security Board of Review
  - Can also appeal the Board's decision to the District Court, Court of Appeals and Kansas Supreme Court if desired.
